

Local business starts 'Big Truck Day'

By: Rob Davis

Posted: 6/5/06

A new Tallahassee business, Off Road Innovations on north Monroe Street, brings local big truck enthusiasts out once a month for "Big Truck Day." Both customers of the shop and other lovers of these big-wheeled pick-ups were welcomed Saturday, June 3 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. to show off their rides. The owners of the establishment, which has been open since February of this year, offer free food and drinks and hold a raffle with some truck accessories as prizes. The event brought out both trucks and drivers of all ages and backgrounds. Pictured, TCC Student Clint Booth poses in front of his Ford F350 Quad-Cab which boasts a four-inch suspension lift, 20-inch wheels and over $7,000 worth of audio, video and navigation equipment, among other things. Booth said he does all of the work on his truck himself but likes to come out to the shop, which is owned by a friend of his, to partake in the event.